UNIFIED—HIV Health and Beyond Announces Kevin Howley as Interim Chief Executive Officer

(Detroit) The Board of Directors of UNIFIED – HIV Health and Beyond announces that Kevin Howley has been appointed as the organization’s interim chief executive officer following the resignation of Linda Bielskis, who has resigned for personal family reasons.

Howley comes to UNIFIED with specific expertise, both in the metropolitan Detroit area and Philadelphia, in the role of Interim CEO, notably holding this position for both the Ruth Ellis Center in 2008 and Affirmations in 2010. Since retiring from a successful business career in 2003, Howley has dedicated his time and efforts toward working with nonprofits in transition.

Howley will be responsible for providing leadership for the day-to-day operations of UNIFIED in its three offices in Detroit, Ypsilanti and Jackson will serve until a permanent CEO is identified. He will begin his duties on February 21, 2020.

“Kevin brings a remarkable amount of experience in nonprofit management which will allow us to remain strong and grow during this transition. We are pleased to have his financial and operations expertise during this period,” said Eve Mokotoff, Chair of the Board of Directors.

UNIFIED - HIV Health and Beyond is the only comprehensive AIDS service organization in the Michigan counties of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, Lenawee, Jackson, Washtenaw, Lapeer and St. Clair and is the largest in the state.
